

Decoframe

Customized and stylish frame projection screen

DECOFRAMES are top-quality and highly attractive frame projection screens that are available for every image format, for both professional and private uses. DECOFRAME lends an elegant and professional appearance to your home cinema, conference room or any other permanent installation leaving nothing to be desired. The DECOFRAME by AV Stumpfl can be tailored to the size of your choice and be supplied with our well-established front and rear projection material. The frame is delivered as a folded frame and the surface material rolled up, which guarantees a crease-free projection surface.

The connecting angles are attached by screws and guarantee a highly accurate corner joint.

During assembly the screen material is attached to the frame.

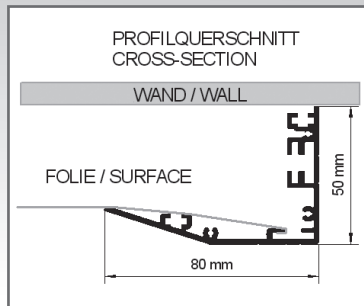

The screen material is attached to plastic hooks.

Sharp corners ensure accurate borders around the area of the projected image.

DecoFrame is also the first choice for your home cinema.

The projection material for the perfect home movie sound is micro-perforated and thus permeable to sound. Precise edge limitations prevent shadows.
